"The Imperial New Delhi takes pride in joining hands with HAI, again this year for promoting Hand Hygiene Day as an entrance door for strengthening healthcare systems and delivery. I believe all good things start from the grass root level and it is extremely important to promote initiatives which are vital for a healthy lifestyle, especially when we are operating in the service industry. It's time to understand, encourage and spread awareness that perfectly clean hands are the most effective way and the first step to stay away from infections and be healthy. This year too, we had organized focused activities to emphasize on keeping hand hygiene at all times and shall continue to do so in near future to make our country aware, safe and healthy", said Vijay Wanchoo Sr. Executive VP and Executive GM The Imperial New Delhi

HAI intends to create awareness among the local communities, schools, orphanages, public institutions, guests, visitors and employees of hotels and the people who handle food and spread the importance of washing hands with soap and water or using a hand sanitizer as the simplest and most cost-effective way of promoting community well-being through prevention of respiratory illnesses, common cold, influenza and other infections.
