INTRODUCTION

It is well known that a CSO's responsibilities can be divided into four basic categories: Information Security and Audits, Physical Security, Business Continuity, and Security Leadership. However, with the quick changing technologies, stringent policy and regulatory requirements, new vulnerabilities and threats, make securing workplaces a challenging job. Be it GDPR related compliance or the proposed data protection law; be it adapting your security posture to the infusion of drones post 1st December or to be ready to update policies to the soon to come new code on occupational safety, health and working conditions at workplace; be it addressing workplace violence, insider threats or intruders, the modern CSO needs to be involved in all the organisation's processes and procedures.

Understanding this need to educate and empower security officer about the changes in the technologies, trends, policy and regulatory changes, Corptive Research is pleased to bring to the market this conference focused on the "Safe & Secure Workplaces", to be held at Welcom Hotel Sheraton, Saket, New Delhi on 7th December 2018

THEME: SAFE & SECURE WORKPLACES

No workplace—be it an office building, construction site, factory floor, or retail store—is immune from security threats. Employees are often the target of these threats as well as the organization's first line of defense against them. Threats endanger the confidentiality, integrity, and security of your workplace, as well as your virtual workplace and computer systems.

Along with the physical security of the employees, it is essential to ensure that important data, networks, software, equipment and company's assets are also protected. Nearly 5 million data records are lost or stolen worldwide every single day, according to the Breach Level Index. That's a staggering 58 records every second. Therefore it is important to have a holistic workplace Security Plan.

THE CONFERENCE WILL FOCUS ON:

It wasn't so long ago that a Chief Security Officer's (CSO) job was relatively straightforward: secure the premises by focusing on facility access, guard services, and camera surveillance. However, today, CSOs are charged with mitigating an array of interdisciplinary and intersecting risks across the enterprise. Consequently, the CSO's role is evolving into a mission-critical service that spans risk areas ranging from data protection and vendor due diligence to regulatory requirements for business continuity and compliance management.

Safe & Secure Workplace Conference is a new event to be held at Welcom Hotel Sheraton, Saket New Delhi on 7th December 2018 is focusing on education, strategies, best practices and case studies for effectively preparing, preventing and responding to internal and external threats to facility, administration and staff.
